BRINGING THE CHILDREN AND THE YOUNG

Unto the Lord!

Cover Photo: Life University affiliate, Life Local School Student

Genesis 1:27-28

“27 So God created mankind in His own image, in the image of God He created them; male and female He created them. 28 God blessed them and said them, “Be fruitful and increase in number; fill the earth and subdue it. Rule over the fish in the sea and the birds in the sky and over every living creature that moves on the ground.”

Family joining the Ministry....

As the saying goes, time flies like an arrow.

I am already over 60 years old, and it's been over 22 years since I've come to the mission field. We came here with three children, aging 9, 7, and 3 years old. The Lord has then gifted us with another child in the mission field, making it a total of four children. It feels like just yesterday when we first came to the field with my family, but it has already been 22 years.

Growing up in the mission field with Cambodian kids, my children were fluent in Khmer. From Grade 6, they would be interpreters for various short term missionaries. It is hard to believe how much they've grown.

People say missionary kids are especially more rebellious during their teenage years, but I am thankful that my children were well-behaved even in their teenage years. How else would you be able to explain this other than His grace!

My eldest daughter finished her high school in Cambodia, and after college she came back to serve in the mission field for two years. She is now married and is living with her husband in Korea. My third child also came back after college to serve in the mission field. After one year of service, he left to study further. My youngest daughter is currently busy preparing for college applications as she will be entering Grade 12 next year. My second child, who is the first son met his wife in college in the United States, and is now back here in the mission field with three of their children! He studied Cinematic Arts at Liberty University, and established a successful videography/commercial business in the States, but came back to the mission field to help alongside with his wife and three toddlers. My grandchildren, Noah (age 5), Aaron (age 4), and Mercy (age 1) all came to the mission field as third generation missionary kids at such young ages. The grandchildren do not know where Cambodia is, or where the United States is, where they came from. When I see my son and my daughter-in-law struggling to adjust in the new environment with their three children, I see myself when I first came to the mission field with my family. My son, having a background in Media and marketing, he is teaching media and working as a Marketing director in Life International School and Life University. Through this he is learning the overall management of the school as well. My daughter-in-law graduated as a nurse, and she is now teaching a few classes at LU Nursing school, and working as the Director of Life International School. I am grateful to the Lord, in seeing my son's family staying busy, learning and experiencing the ministry one step at a time. Most of all, in the times of hardship in the mission field, my granddaughter Mercy's cuteness gives all of our family members joy and laughter.

My son's family joining the ministry brings us much joy. It is good for the local people to see the second generation and third generation missionaries, joining the ministry to further His Kingdom. It is a tremendous help and encouragement to serve in the mission field with my whole family. The short life that we are given to live on this earth, I am grateful and give praise to our Lord for the wonderful blessing of the family joining and serving Him alongside. I pray that through us all, many Cambodian people will come to His Saving knowledge.

"Very truly I tell you, whoever believes in me will do the works I have been doing, and they will do even greater things than these, because I am going to the Father. And I will do whatever you ask in my name, so that the Father may be glorified in the Son. You may ask me for anything in my name, and I will do it." (John 14:12-14)
